Steve Miller spent 25 years as a professional comedian traveling the world entertaining people and bringing laughter into their lives. A few years ago, he decided to reconnect with his Judaism and study Torah. Steven not only found a love for Judaism, he found humor in the Torah and decided to bring his two passions together. With humor and Torah, he created a program for teens and adults that uses creative writing and humor grounded in Torah study to help them handle the daily challenges in life. It's a fun and entertaining way to help people learn to deal with their problems. Learn Torah in the hopes of creating a spark for a love of Yiddishkeit! Don't take yourself too seriously. Have Fun, learn Torah and create Light!
